

I. MAX GILLET

Chicago, IL · imaxgillet@gmail.com · mgillet@chicagobooth.edu · www.imaxgillet.com

EDUCATION

---

|                                                                                                                                                                       |                |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------|
| University of Chicago, Booth School of BusinessPh.D. in Financial Economics (Joint Program)                                                                | 2025 – Present |
| University of Chicago, Booth School of BusinessM.B.A., concentrations in Analytic Finance, Economics, and FinanceWallman Scholar (High Honors, top 5%) | 2022 – 2025    |
| Northwestern UniversityB.S. in Applied Mathematics and Integrated Science Program; magna cum laude                                                  | 2012 – 2016    |

WORKING PAPERS

-
- “Open Ended Treasury Purchases: From Market Functioning to Financial Easing.”
With S. D’Amico, S. Schulhofer-Wohl, and T. Seida.
- “Do Not Underestimate QT.”
With S. D’Amico, C. Price, and B. Wickman. Work in progress.
- “AI Pivots and Retail Trading” (first-year paper)

POLICY PUBLICATIONS

-
- “The U.S. Labor Market: A Long-Run Perspective.”
With S. A. Brave, R. A. Butters, and R. Cole. Chicago Fed Economic Perspectives, 2026.
- “Nowcasting Median Household Income with Mixed-Frequency Models.”
Chicago Fed Economic Perspectives, 2024.
- “How Do Recent Financial Conditions Compare to Previous Episodes of Monetary Tightening?”
With T. King. Chicago Fed Letter No. 498, 2024.
- “What Does the NFCI Tell Us About Future Economic Growth?”
With S. A. Brave. Chicago Fed Insights.
- “Higher Home Prices and Higher Rates Mean Bigger Affordability Hurdles for the U.S. Consumer.”
With C. Hull. Chicago Fed Letter No. 481, 2023.

PRESENTATIONS

---

2025: Federal Reserve System Conference on Financial Institutions, Regulation and Markets

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

---

|                                                                     |             |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| Federal Reserve Bank of ChicagoBusiness Economist | 2024 – 2025 |
| Senior Research Analyst                                      | 2022 – 2024 |
| Research Analyst                                             | 2020 – 2022 |
| SBB Research GroupTactics Associate               | 2016 – 2020 |

HONORS & AWARDS

---

|                                                                                |             |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| John and Serena Liew Fama-Miller PhD Fellowship                                | 2025        |
| Chicago Fed's Justiniano Award for character and department citizenship | 2023        |
| Northwestern Mascot Team Captain                                               | 2015 – 2016 |
| Eagle Scout                                                                    |             |

TECHNICAL SKILLS

---

R, MATLAB, Julia, Python, SQL, Linux/Bash, Bloomberg, Git, L<sup>A</sup>T<sub>E</sub>X